The 3rd International Conference on

Nanomaterials and Biomaterials

December 2-4 2019

Conference venue

Faculty of Architecture, University of Lisbon, Lisbon, Potugal

Over the past decade, nanomaterials have been the subject of enormous interest. These materials, notable or their extremely small feature size, have the potential for wide-ranging industrial, biomedical, and electronic applications. The variety of nanomaterials is great,and their range of properties and possible applications appear to be enormous.Biomaterials have been a growing field of interest for over half a century, spanning industries as diverse as medicine, biology, chemistry, materials science and through to engineering. It is clear that researchers are merely on the threshold of understanding and development, and that a great deal of fundamental work remains to be done.
